

ROMANO TRAVERTINE

SOURCE: NORTH AMERICA

Romano Travertine brings a warm, unhurried presence to our collection. Its cream and beige ground shifts softly across each piece, with the organic tonal variation that forms naturally as mineral-rich water moves through stone over time. In cross cut, that character reads as cloudy and pooled; in vein cut, it resolves into the stone's distinctive horizontal banding. Two expressions of the same material, each worth considering on its own terms.
